

MAYLINE® C-Files

Self-contained steel files have integrated caps and can be bolted together for stacking. Drawers have front metal plan depressor and rear hood to keep documents flat and orderly. The drawer fronts are a double-wall construction. Whether the need is for active or archival storage of drawings, C-Files are perfect for the requirement and structurally provide the greatest protection of any plan file on the market. Other colors available for special order. Please note that these are not stock items. These are drop shipped from the manufacturer only.
